Mr. W. R. Weeks,

Dear Sir:

Sometime since you exhibited to us a fine Libertatis Libertatem Defendo. We have a customer for one and a man who will pay a good price. If you will sell yours will you kindly send it to us with your price. We wrote to you in regard to this but not receiving any reply we presume you did not get it. Are you collecting anything in our line now? We have been sending you catalogues but receiving no responsefeel like discontinuing same through lack of patronage.

Respectfully

S. H. & H. Chapman

The New York cent is not for sale.
"Once a collector, always a collector", but I have been doing nothing for a year or two, although glad to keep in touch with offerings, so that catalogues are acceptable, even if I do not purchase coins or medals.
Why do you not charge for catalogues?
I am willing to pay for them.
